

In August when old Sol sets down
the fierce rays of heat,
The ice-man drives about the town and takes up his stand on the street,
But when December comes along
And winter's blasts are here to stay,
Where is the haughty ice-man now?
The centaur holds the right of way.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Sam Frankel is visiting in Rochester, N.Y.
J. H. Wiles, of Fairview, was at the city yesterday.
John L. Brueker is at home and will spend the Christmas with his family.
Mrs. T. E. Gandy, Miss Luisa Miller and Miss Fannie Blakely were in the city shopping today.

Herschel Porter, of Louisville, who is spending a few weeks with relatives at Pembroke, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Harry Fraser, conductor of this division, is in the U.S., left Saturday for his new post at Birmingham, Ala.

Henderson Journal: Miss Carrie Wintress of Hopkinsville, arrived in the city Wednesday, and is visiting her sister, Mrs. V. H. Cunningham.

Willie Wilson, son of R. H. Wilson, who went to California in 1886, returned last week satisfied from his experience in the West that Kentucky is the best place to live after all.

T. W. Forster, M.D., of the College Medical Institute, Louisville, made his first regular professional visit to this city Saturday and held consultations with quite a number of persons who placed themselves under his treatment. He will talk the Phoenix about the life of each moderator.

At the Phoenix yesterday: O. P. Updegraff, Towson; W. N. Morris, Nashville; W. L. Thompson, Lexington; J. D. Thompson, N. L. Holmes, Madisonville; J. H. Hart, Paducah; F. E. Jewett, St. Louis; C. E. Eccles, Princeton; H. C. Hall, Paducah; J. Steele and S. W. White, Chicago.

CREAM OF THE NEWS.

O. V. Men Arrive.

The Preliminary Survey of the O. V. line from Princeton to this point was completed Saturday and Engineer C. W. Boyton and his force were in town Sunday. The survey made runs about three miles north of Wallington, thence south of Cerulean crossing the L. & N. at the Itaker place. It then turns northward and leaves Hillyerville to the south passing through the farms of W. G. Higgins and F. H. Renshaw. It passes near the Bowling place on the Princeton road and runs through the Wood and Hoosier places near the forks of the Princeton road, then into the Western part of the city, crossing the river west of the High School building. The party return to Princeton and will begin to day if the weather is suitable to locate the line so as to be ready early in January to begin actual work. The line surveyed is liable to be changed some, but the same general direction will be followed.

Prof. Fritz' Entertainment.

Following is the program of the entertainment given by Prof. Fritz, Tuesday evening:

Music, quartette;

Flower Scene from Ingomar—Prof. Fritz; Parton, Mrs. Edith Bouwra.

Solo by Miss Fannie Mercer.

Farce, "Two Familiar by Hall"—

Mrs. J. H. Anderson, Mrs. C. H. Detrich, J. W. Howner and Thad S. Fritz.

Duet by Mrs. Ira Smith and Miss Katie McDaniel.

Scene from Macbeth—Prof. Fritz, as Macbeth and Mrs. J. O. Rust as Lady Macbeth.

Cornet Solo, Mr. Jas. H. Anderson.

Recitation, "Charlot race from Beaujolais," Thad S. Fritz.

Solo, Mr. Frank L. Waller.

Farse—"Courtsip under Difficulties," Mrs. J. O. Rust, L. H. Petreco and Thad S. Fritz.

The entertainment was a pleasant affair throughout, all of those taking part doing themselves much credit. Prof. Fritz has maintained his high reputation as an eloquent, attractive public speaker in this city.

Removed the Obstruction.

William Campbell, col., a Burbridge House porter, was arrested by policeman Shipp Witty, Friday, for obstructing the platform, while passengers were getting on and off the train, and was fined $5 and costs, which he failed to pay, and was promptly locked up. It seems that he was warned by the policeman several times not to rush among the passengers while they were descending from the cars, which order he flatly refused to obey and proceeded to make himself conspicuous, and in a threatening manner to the officer, when he was armed off. Hereafter this ordinance will be promptly enforced at the depot, as it should be.

They Fractured the Peace.

Jerry Smith, col., was arrested Saturday, charged with disorderly conduct, and immediately had a trial, which resulted in a fine of $5 and costs. He arranged affairs and left the city promising to behave himself in future.

Harry Blacker, col., for a breach of the peace, committed Friday, was fined $10 and costs, Saturday, in the City Court.

Another Appropriate Lesson.

Ed Vass, col., who, in an attempt to rescue a prisoner from special officer, J. W. Williams, at Pembroke, Nov. 10th, and who struck Mr. Williams on the head, with a brick or rock, inflicting a bad wound, was tried here last Thursday, by a jury, and given six months at hard labor. He was taken to jail to serve out his sentence of the law but escaped yesterday from workhouse keeper D. T. Brown.

THIS AND THAT.

Novelties of the season at Gathler's.

Ross A. Rogers' livery stable, Fritz's old stand.

New fashions—faded—fall the first snow of the season—a few flying flakes—fell on the 12th.

Fox hunting is the favorite amusement for the gentlemen of the Fairview vicinity, at the present time.

Capt. C. N. Pendleton, formerly of Pembroke, has been elected city attorney of Owenboro.

Superintendent Renshaw has received a supply of the common school laws, for the use of county teachers.

An important meeting of the Commercial Club will be held to night. All of the members are requested to attend.

W. A. M. Brewer's child has been very ill for several days.

D. Ed. Dec. 13, 1888; Mrs. Sophia A. Griffin, wife of O. B. Griffin. The deceased was a member of the Christian church; she was loved and esteemed by all who knew her. All that was mortal rests under the sod near her earthly home and her spirit has gone to that beautiful city whose builder and maker is God. She leaves many friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Send your orders to J. S. Brown Springfield, Tenn., for pure Tennessee and Kentucky whiskies and apple and peach brandies. Prices of whiskies $1.75, $1.00 and $2.50.

TO-NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Will be the Event of the Season.

The New York Mirror, speaking of the late production of "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," which will be produced at the Opera House to-night.

The third act has the most powerful dramatic situation of the piece. Dr. Jekyll having determined to entrap Dr. Lanyon with his secret, has arranged a midnight meeting at the latter's office, where he arrives in the character of the jibbering, chattering deformed idiot, Hyde, placing Dr. Lanyon under oath not to disclose the secret of the transcendental drug whose power he is about to show, takes it, and becomes once more Dr. Jekyll. The revelation of the metamorphosis kills Dr. Lanyon by nervous shock. In the fourth act, the business thickens, ending with Dr. Jekyll's supreme struggle for supremacy of his better nature. He knows his aspirations are hopeless and takes poison and dies as the jibbering Hyde.

The complete mystery is not unravelled until the very end of this act, when the sheet is removed from the body of the wretched Hyde."

The audience is respectfully requested to remain seated until the curtain falls upon this startling document, which ends the play.

CITY OFFICERS.

A Scramble For The Places At The Council's Disposal.

About fifty persons went to Madisonville Friday to take part in and witness the entertainment by the Hopkinsville Dairy Mills Company. The performance was a decided success, financially and otherwise. The audience was large and attentive and the young ladies one and all acquitted themselves in handsome style.

Walter Campbell, Emmet Cooper, Major Woodbridge, Jas. Cooper, Owen Stilhagen, Harry Tandy, Harry Bryan, and Bob Cook, accompanied by Misses Mary Radford, Mamie Clark, Edna Radford, Lucy Prince and Nannie Barnes attended a party given at Jim Radford's home Penrose, at Jim Radford's usual Penrose, Tandy, and Jno. P. Campbell won this position.

The next best place is that of City Clerk, Auditor and Treasurer, now held by Judge H. H. Lillard, which pays $625. A. J. M. Wallis, Austin Dicks, W. T. Tandy, and Jno. P. Campbell won this position.

The City Street Inspector Jno. A. Twyman is such an efficient officer and is so popular with all parties that he cannot be disturbed.

The present police force consists of F. W. Blaggs, Chief, C. A. Biggarstaff, W. S. Whitt and W. J. Wadlington.

It seems to be pretty well understood that Alex Campbell has the call for the chief's place. There are a score of candidates for the other places, among them G. H. Miller, R. Davis, M. W. Davis, J. K. Twyman, John Tucker, Routenbush and Vinson.

The City Jailer, Jordan Barker, col., is a good officer and although he opposed the new board he may be permitted to remain in his place.

Tragedy at Earlinton.

Tin Harrington and William Sanders, two young men aged about 18 years, were out hunting near Earlinton Saturday and while returning home stopped to rest. While sitting on a fence a young Harrington attempted to lift his gun over, when the hammer caught and the gun was discharged, shooting Sanders in the head, causing instant death. Young Harrington immediately went to town and surrendered, stating the facts as above, which were proved at the Coroner's inquest held that evening. Public sympathy is with Harrington, who is nearly crazed over the sad occurrence.

Being More Pleasant

To the taste, more acceptable to the stomach, and more truly beneficial in its action, the famous California Bitters is the largest overbrought to the place, and comprises every variety of drinkables from the year old to the aged with prices not fancy but strictly standard. You can rely on what Mr. Crusman tells you about his goods and that is a fact well worth knowing when going to make your purchases.

The following subjects will be discussed at the evening services at the Christian church this week, by Rev. A. P. Cobb: Tuesday, "My Yoke"; Wednesday, "The Good Conscience"; Thursday, "Converted but not Converted"; Friday, "Who Saves and How?" Saturday, "Almost Personalized"; Sunday morning, "Life's Ideal"; Sunday evening, "The Venture of Faith."

Full line of Ladies,

Misses and children's Hose at Frankel's.

Don't forget the Bargain Counter at H. B. Garner's.

Overcoats Tailor

Made at Frankel's.

ACCIDENTAL KILLING.

Death of Mrs. O. B. Griffin, an Estimator.

CHOFORN, Ky., Dec. 16, '88.—Less Keys, a son of Richard Keys, was accidentally shot and killed by Mr. Penn Vance at 8:30 a.m., to-day. Keys had gone over to Mr. Vance's to get his hair cut and a young man by the name of Marquess, who boards with Mr. Vance had left his pistol on the sewing machine and young Keys asked Mr. Vance to show him how it revolved and while Vance was revolving it, he discharged the ball, entering Keys chest about one and a half inches to the right of the base of the heart. He lived about thirty minutes. The deceased was about fourteen years old and was a bright and industrious boy; always ready and willing to do any work. To his father and many friends we extend our condolence.

W. A. M. Brewer's child has been very ill for several days.

Crusher Hats all colors at Frankel's.

Lovers of Art should go to Buckley's and see his fine display of Oil Paintings, Oil Chromes and Steel Engravings, which he offers for sale cheap.

New Dress Goods, latest shades English cashmeres, Henrietta, Broad Cloth and Tricots at Frankel's.

Come in and see our Xmas Cards.

WYLY & BURNETT.

Elegant Hand Embroidered Kerchiefs for Ladies at Frankel's.

For the benefit of Dr. Kilby's Great Novelty, "The Extra Mile," send $1.00 and receive a Marquette carafe, "Present an extra bottle free to it." Send to Dr. Kilby, 921 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Xmas is coming and our goods are going.

WYLY & BURNETT.

The imported goods at Gathler's are the attractions of the day.

Dividend No. 5.

At the regular semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Crescent Milling Company, held at their office a five per cent (5%) dividend on the usual dividend was ordered to be paid to the stockholders out of the net earnings for the six months ending Nov. 30, 1888, and the same payable Jan. 1, 1889, at the office of the company. It was also recommended that the balance be re-invested.

B. H. DEVEREUX, Secy and Treas.

Roder's Champagne.

Piper Heidsieck.

Mumm's Extra Dry Champeno.

Dry Veronique.

Carte Blanche.

Bass's English Ale.

India Pale Ale.

Guinness Dublin Stout.

Anhouser Busch Lager Beer.

Holland Gin.

Jamaica Rum.

Catania Wine.

Angostura.

Scuppernong Wine.

Port Wine.

Milsehra.

Sherry.

Burgundy Wine.

Three and Fancy Groceries of Every Variety.

AT CRUSMAN'S,

CLARKSVILLE, TENN.

T. HERNDON.

SPECIAL LOCALS.

Cabinet Photographs $1.00 per doz.

at Anderson's gallery.

Crusher Hats all colors at Frankel's.

Lovers of Art should go to Buckley's and see his fine display of Oil Paintings, Oil Chromes and Steel Engravings, which he offers for sale cheap.

New Dress Goods, latest shades English cashmeres, Henrietta, Broad Cloth and Tricots at Frankel's.

Come in and see our Xmas Cards.

WYLY & BURNETT.

Elegant Hand Embroidered Kerchiefs for Ladies at Frankel's.

For the benefit of Dr. Kilby's Great Novelty, "The Extra Mile," send $1.00 and receive a Marquette carafe, "Present an extra bottle free to it." Send to Dr. Kilby, 921 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Xmas is coming and our goods are going.

WYLY & BURNETT.

The imported goods at Gathler's are the attractions of the day.

Dividend No. 5.

At the regular semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Crescent Milling Company, held at their office a five per cent (5%) dividend on the usual dividend was ordered to be paid to the stockholders out of the net earnings for the six months ending Nov. 30, 1888, and the same payable Jan. 1, 1889, at the office of the company. It was also recommended that the balance be re-invested.

B. H. DEVEREUX, Secy and Treas.

Roder's Champagne.

Piper Heidsieck.

Mumm's Extra Dry Champeno.

TO PRESERVE THE SOFTNESS OF FLANNEL GARMENTS, FOLLOW CAREFULLY THESE DIRECTIONS FOR WASHING.

Dissolve thoroughly in boiling water some IVORY SOAP, shaved fine. Add sufficient warm water to wash the flannels in one by one.

Don't rub any soap on the flannels, but knead them well in the solution.

Don't rinse them in plain water, use a fresh supply of the solution, warm, and well blued, for the purpose.

Don't wring tightly with the hands, use a clothes-wringer. The free from water you get these garments the softer they will be.

Hang them out immediately, if the weather will permit; if not, dry before the fire. If left to stand wet, the flannel will certainly shrink.

Never wash flannel in water too hot to bear your hand in.

Never rinse them in cold water.

Always use IVORY SOAP, it is the best, much experience has proved this.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Copyright 1865 by Procter & Gamble.

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH ENTREPRENEUR

18 AND 20 NINTH STREET.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY

Cheap Club Rates.

Subscribers to the SOUTH ENTREPRENEUR will be given a discount on the benefit of this cheap club rates with their papers and periodicals:

S. E. & P. G.	12
Commercial	$0.00
Farmers Home Journal	$0.00
Home & Farm	$0.00
Italy's World	$0.00
Semi-Weekly	$0.00
Detroit Free Press	$0.00
Democrat's Almanac	$0.00
Democrat's Monthly	$0.00
Gazette Herald	$0.00
Youth's Companion, Boston	$0.00
Holiday Magazine	$0.00
Harper's Weekly	$0.00
Harper's Bazaar	$0.00
Young People	$0.00

ADVERTISING RATES.

One insertion, $1.00; one week, $1.50; six months, $9.00; twelve months, $15.00. The semi-monthly, $6.00; twice monthly, $10.00. For further information apply for card of rates.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

THOSE that are accustomed to the New York and Metropole of this Kind.

Another London fancer in the gown that are now being manufactured for winter wear is in cloth dresses of that popular shade called sometimes to the grand decoration of the funny parades—“elephant’s bough.” This is trimmed with the yellowish of yellow-brown otter, but it is a brave woman who wears it, it may be remarked.

A pretty stamp-go-go to be worn by a New York girl in a taffeta neoprene the ocean, is of dark-blue serge and has a skirt lab in narrow side planks from the waist down. There is a long Directoire coat which reaches the skirt’s edge in the back, and is cut off at the waist in front. It opens over a draped waistcoat of semiprecious chain crepe, has big buttons set on each side of the front and collar, lapels and cuffs of blue velvet.

The color of colors this winter will be as it has been during the summer-green in all its shades; the lighter thus, of course, reserved for the bull and tan gown, while for street wear, olive, bottle, Lincoln, moss and ultramarine green will be worn combined with brown, tan or gray. The color which comes next in popularity is canary. That clear pale shade of yellow will be seen in bonnets, in housewear, and, above all, in the full bellows of the young women.

The palest and reddest lavender in favor and in striped materials are very becoming to tall full figures. They are drawn back slightly, the corners forming long points, the drapery in the back is very slight or else absent altogether, the long seams being continued down the back with the fulness plaited in beneath them. For young and slight women the Directoire coat, with its big buttons, high collar and full-draped waistcoat and large buttons, takes the place of the redingote.

The latest addition to the new dresses is the sash. Not only are immense sashes worn on every thing, especially to outline the edge of a pointed bodice and then be tied in an enormous bow in the back, but they are also draped into the side draperies. A black tulip gown made by Russell, of Bond street, London, goes a point beyond any thing hitherto seen on this side, and is absolutely the very newest and most style of its kind. This sash is prodigious, and is not only of that vivid red which is vulgarly known as “holl fire,” but it is brocaded with bunches of roged roses and bright blue. That sounds pretty bad, but the effect is in reality tremendously swaggy.

A charming gown worn at Lenox by a newly-married New Yorker who has been replenishing her wardrobe in Paris had a skirt of tasseled orange from the waist. It had no drapery but a Directoire coat of pale blue brocade. The waistcoat was of tan-colored blonde lace, a deep ruffle of it falling below the hills of tan shrub that defined the waist in a long point. This lace was carried up inside the high collar of the coat and fell over the outside in another pleat ruffle. There were big smocked pearl buttons enameled. In blue on either edge of the coat-fronts, and they were also on the wide cuffs turned back from the wrists, where were deep gatherings of the fabric.

Alex Ashby, Titus Merritt and El. never, colored silks, were killed by an explosion in the Holme coal mine at Middletown on Saturday.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Hints and suggestions on Themes Pleasant to the Fair Sex.

Pale olive, lawn and mushroom tones are at present in high favor. They are refined, cool looking and adapted to almost any occasion. A stylish dress is made of mushroom-colored silk-warp Henrietta cloth. The dress called a Directoire was in redolent fashion, with superb bands of gold and silver sequins running down each side of the front, covering the large Directoire collar and forming the entire vest over which the garment opened. The skirt was of pale mushroom-colored wavy silk.

French muslin is in great use this season, and many neatly elegant gowns are made of it, for visiting, traveling and the promenade. Molte silk is almost exclusively trimming, and often there are more of the latter fabrics in the costume than of the material. Black alpaca and black mohair are also popular. Dove-gray inclines with a deeper shade of wintered silk, formed in soft travel-travel dress, for a bride last week, and another, like wear, was made of lawn-colored mochir with shirt, vest, and monocle-cuffs of white moire, these almost covered with faint-embroidered and white silk gauze.

A pretty toilet worn by a lady artist at a reception recently was made of cream-colored lace with a ruffled edge.

The sleeves were very becoming to the wearer, who is dressed with a super-abundance of lace, for they were made of a kind of lace-work, with lines of gold running down it. This is a very good idea for those who want nature to be overruled, for the straight lines running from shoulder to wrist take of a great deal of the look of too solid flesh without the aid of the surgeon.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to

get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French muslin, India lawn, chambors and dainty embriques abound on every side. This sounds very much like economy, but the impression is that fabrics that cost but little a yard tend in reduce expenses is a fallacy of which we have all had convincing proofs. Simple cotton dresses cost but a pittance, but the to

get them to the modistes, leave her to “gorish” her may bill her of double and sometimes triple the cost of the “simple edition,” let the dress pass during the course of the season through the laundress’s hands, and it will then be thoroughly proven that the inexpensive “dresses” which, true to former tradition, the mind still associates with a washing dress, is a delusion and a snare.

Zephyr gingham, French mus